Some 500 Italian barbers in Harlem strike for three days in an effort to enforce the Sunday closing law gathered at Eighty-second street and Second avenue this afternoon and held a mass meeting. It was resolved to parade around and try to force other barbers to join the strike.

The parade was not molested until it got to Ninety-second street and Second avenue, where George Bonelli and spokesmen, became excited. It appeared to a couple of policemen who could not understand Italian that Bonelli and Anuzzi were counselling vio-

The two voluble barbers were arrested, whereupon an attempt was made to rescue them. Additional policemen arrived and in all eighteen barbers were taken into custody.

In Harlem Polite Court Magistrate House paroled them until to-morrow morning for examination on a charge of disorderly conduct.

Another Black Hand letter on which the Brownsville police are working was received by Joseph Pinozzo, of No. 2015. Bergen street, demanding 1400, and singularly it is in handwriting similar to those addressed to the priest, and was also mailed at Station S. Manhattan on Aug. II.

A week ago a strange man drew a pistol on a brother of Pinozzo in a saloon, as a result of which the proprietor was charged with excise violation, and it is thought possible that this may have had something to do with the letter he received.
